What are cookies?

A cookie is a small text file that a website stores on your computer or mobile device when you visit the site.

- First party cookies are cookies set by the website you're visiting. Only that website can read them. In addition, a website might potentially use external services, which also set their own cookies, known as third-party cookies.
- Persistent cookies are cookies saved on your computer and that are not deleted automatically when you quit your browser, unlike a session cookie, which is deleted when you quit your browser.

Every time you visit the Commission's websites, you will be prompted to accept or refuse cookies. The purpose is to enable the site to remember your preferences (such as user name, language, etc.) for a certain period of time. That way, you don't have to re-enter them when browsing around the site during the same visit.

How can you manage cookies?

You can manage/delete cookies as you wish - for details, see aboutcookies.org.

Removing cookies from your device

You can delete all cookies that are already on your device by clearing the browsing history of your browser. This will remove all cookies from all websites you have visited.

Be aware though that you may also lose some saved information (e.g. saved login details, site preferences).

Managing site-specific cookies

For more detailed control over site-specific cookies, check the privacy and cookie settings in your preferred browser

Blocking cookies

You can set most modern browsers to prevent any cookies being placed on your device, but you may then have to manually adjust some preferences every time you visit a site/page. And some services and functionalities may not work properly at all (e.g. profile logging-in).

Managing our analytics cookies

You can manage your preferences concerning cookies from Europa Analytics on the dedicated Europa Analytics page.

Course details

The Framework Partnership Agreement - FPA 2014, covered the period 2014-2020, therefore from the 1st of January 2021, a new set of documents will enter into force covering the period 2021-2027. The logic of pre-identification of NGO Partners, the partnership spirit and the overall reference framework remain unchanged, although expressed in a different form, which we will analyse in this eLearning. Course Agenda The content is organised around the following topics:

- A different approach
- Pre-identification of partners : the ex-ante assessment
- The 2021 ECHO Partnership certificate
- The text of the 2021 ECHO Partnership certificate in details
- Questions and answers & knowledge check

Target audience

Staff of Candidate NGOs or certified NGOs

Accessing the Course:

12. You can now access the course, where you'll find useful information, course materials, and an evaluation form to be completed for downloading the certificate.
